Interventions with Recovery and Wellness Professional Services

Lawrence Farber with Recovery and Wellness Professional Services is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker with over 30 years of experience working with individuals suffering from substance abuse and dependency. He has worked with many clients labeled "treatment resistant" and has had great success with helping them in recovery through inpatient, outpatient, wilderness, and intervention settings as well as extensive experience assisting with placement in treatment facilities.

The intervention process will begin with a free one hour consultation with the family and/or friends of the potential client. This is a one hour conference where Lawrence Farber will introduce himself to the family and/or friends of the client, review the intervention process, and answer any questions they may have. Should the family require services beyond the free one hour consultation such as more detailed clinical assessment, questions, and help coping with the stress of your loved one's addiction, his rate is $175 per hour.

An intervention is most often successfully completed in a two-day process. The first day requires traveling to the destination of the client, meeting family members and friends who are supportive of the client, gathering information, and going through a practice intervention without the client present. The second day will involve the actual intervention with the client present, followed by transportation of the client to a treatment facility agreed upon during the initial consultation. If requested, Lawrence Farber is willing to transport the client to a treatment facility at a rate of $60/hour.

List of Fees:

- Hourly Rate (after initial free one hour consultation): $175/hour
- Intervention: $1,750/day
- Transport fee: $60/hour (total transport time charged will include travel both ways)

Please note: the individual(s) paying for the intervention will be responsible for all travel expenses incurred by Lawrence Farber (flights, hotel, food, gas, etc.)

Once a written agreement is signed, a non-refundable 50% deposit is required to cover the first day of the intervention as Lawrence will be making himself immediately available to assist in this process.
